

It's Free

Would you bother to listen if I tried to explain?
Or would all my efforts just be in vain?
You know nothing in this world is really free...
Except of course advice from fools like me.

If I could tell you in one little song;
In all of life where I've gone wrong;
Of the mistakes I've made,
and the lessons I've learned.
Of the price I've paid,
and the wisdom I've earned.

I'd tell you to live your life as you see fit.
Do what you have to, it's your life, live it!
Why let others choose the path you take?
That's the one choice you get to make.

You get to dance to your own song.
Whether you're right,
or whether your wrong.
It's too hard to dance
to someone else's tune.
That's like eating spaghetti
with a spoon!
Why do anything
the hard way?
Just be who you are....
it's okay.

Poet C.A. Lemont & Artist Martha Wherry